The Safety Patrol of the school was honored at Tuesday evening's meeting of the PTA. Edward J. Campbell, faculty adviser of the patrol, acted as master of ceremonies. He briefly outlined the organization and function of our school patrol and appointed Larry Hopkins as captain of the patrol.

Others taking part in the program included Lt. Zary Farynck, Sgt. George Ellis and Trooper Budniak of the N. J. State Police; Chief Walter Hain, of the Wenonah Police Dept.; Mrs. John Sterling, representing the Board of Education; Mrs. M. Blemle, of the county superintendent's office; the Rev. Dr. L. Grant, and Principal George Blank.

Lt. Farynck awarded certificates to safety poster contest winners for the 1960-61 school term. Lucinda Cowell made a "first" in these contests, being the only student to win two first places in a single year. Linda Gottschling won a first place and Linda Miller placed second and third. Lt. Farynck also called attention to the fact that Wenonah had five awards of 33 made, chosen from thousands of entries from over 600 schools in the state.

Stanley Gernaga, local florist, presented each of the girls with a lovely orchid.

At the PTA meeting which followed, Frank Trost announced plans for forthcoming meetings. Programs will include civil defense and juvenile delinquency and there are tentative plans for a forum on how arithmetic is taught.

President O. Burdsall made note of the fact that the forum on reading presented last year by members of the teaching staff will be presented in Atlantic City at the N. J. State Convention of the PTA as an example of a PTA service to the parents and school.

The president also announced the following will serve this year: Mrs. D. C. Wilkins will replace Mrs. Stanley Madsen as corresponding secretary; hospitality chairman, Mrs. A. Wesh; membership chairman, Mrs. W. Watkins; ways and means, Robert Allen and Jack Wiler; nominations, Jack Wiler, and publicity, Mrs. W. Harris, Jr. Representing the school board at PTA executive meetings are Mrs. J. Sterling and Frank Loving.

Everyone present was urged to support the PTA and renew their membership.
