

Courier-Post 06210

Edward R. Manners, 84, of Wenonah, died Tuesday at home.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., Mr. Manners was a lab technician for Texaco Inc. for 30 years, retiring in 1979.

He was a member of the Gloucester County Nature Club, Wenonah Shade Tree Commission, Wenonah Historical Society and numerous horticultural societies. He was also a life member of the Delaware Valley Ornithological Club, and was honored as Wenonah Volunteer of the Year in 1998 in recognition of his dedication to community service.

He is survived by his wife, Helen W. (nee Wilain); two daughters, Susan Telage of Holliston, Mass., and Anne Burdsall of Collingswood; two stepsons, Larry Smith of Dallas and Ronald Smith of Collingswood; a stepdaughter, Linda Todd of Wenonah; a sister, Virginia Fox of Wenonah; a granddaughter; and six step-grandchildren.

A memorial gathering will be held July 16 from 5 to 8 p.m. at Wenonah Community Center, 2 N. East Ave., Wenonah. Cremation will be private.

Memorial contributions may be made to Friends of Wenonah-Environmental, 1 W. Cherry St., Wenonah 08090.

Arrangements by Smith Funeral Home, Mantua.

Edward R.Manners, 1916-2000

Clipped By:

bob_thomas_wk
Thu, Oct 28, 2021