

GAY SEASON AT WENONAH
One of the Prettiest of the Inland Resorts of New Jersey.

WENONAH, N. J., July 18.

An unusually gay season is now on at this most excellent outing place. Being the highest point between Philadelphia and Cape May, there is always a refreshing breeze, and the many guests revel in the delights thus afforded. There is no long ride to obtain the pleasures of an inland resort, and with a temperature above that at the average seashore retreat, these amusements are much sought after. The season of 1896 promises to be the greatest in Wenonah's history, if one may judge from the early applications for quarters. Not a cottage remains unoccupied, and the inn has a full quota of those who prefer proximity to the cities to the shore.

There are no "big days" here—every day being one of enjoyment and sociability. The morning card parties of the ladies and the evening strolls along the two prettiest lakes in the State by entire families when the husband and father joins them in the evenings, make life, through the heated portion, not a burden, but a pleasure. Many of the Inn guests have their carriages here, and the handsome turnouts are much admired by residents in general. The drives to the surrounding towns of Manita and Woodbury are pleasant, and those who choose to cycle to the suburbs find roads of the best.

Seafus and Mrs. Bolderback entertained a company of merry makers a few evenings ago at their palatial home. Among the guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Bridges, Mrs. Sarah Packer, Miss Hattie Stevenson, of Philadelphia; Miss Emily Packer, Toledo, O.; Mrs. E. P. Wright, Mickleton; Miss Emma Thompson, Camden; Misses Belle Cartell, Mary Turner and William C. Cartell, of this place.

The Epworth League ran an excursion to Ocean City on Tuesday, and the summer visitors joined them and the party which left the station was the largest picked up along the West Jersey Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Seaman entertained a company of cardplayers one evening this week. A party of Trenton people came down to Mr. and Mrs. William Rollins's hospitable home a few evenings ago, and a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent. These were among the number: Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cook, Misses Lillian, Josie, Sue and Ethel Cook, Thomas Cook, Mr. and Mrs. George Fitzgibbon, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harkinson, Mr. and Mrs. George Findall and Mr. Wallace Tindall.

A progressive euchre was held at the Inn on Tuesday evening. There were twelve tables, the prize winners being Mrs. Sargent, first; Mrs. Kelly, second; and Mrs. Whistron, third, of the gent's prizes, Mr. Schull, first; Mr. Grob, second; and Mr. Douty, third.

The regular hop on Wednesday evening was largely attended, both by out of town people and summer guests.

The family of John J. MacDonald, of Philadelphia, has taken quarters at the Inn for the entire summer. Mr. MacDonald's handsome team is here, and the members are thoroughly enjoying their outing.

Other Philadelphia guests at this pleasant hostelry are: J. E. Wise, James Lambert, Horace Davis, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sutor, Mrs. Douty and two children, H. Foulke, J. A. Kelly, Herbert Davis, Mrs. R. Reampton, W. C. Halpin, Mrs. A. S. Deane, Mrs. Emma Maxwell, Charles B. Miller, Jr., Mrs. Spang and two daughters, Miss Mary Harris, John M. Keenan, Miss Mary Weldon, J. M. Gardiner, Thomas C. Bullock, Robert Miller, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Phillips, Miss Gertrude Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Douty, Miss Marguerite Douty, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Best, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Miller and two daughters.
